

Give the gift of entertainment this Christmas with The Everyman Theatre

For those looking for a special Christmas gift this season, The Everyman Theatre, Gloucestershire's premiere entertainment venue, has some ideas for unique gifts which are sure to delight even the hardest to buy for!

Gift vouchers

Who doesn't enjoy a trip to the theatre or an evening of live entertainment? The Everyman Theatre's gift vouchers are redeemable against all shows and performances on sale via its Box Office, from laugh out loud comedies to acclaimed dramas, beloved family favourites to stunning operas – with so much on offer you'll be spoilt for choice!

Gift vouchers are valid for two years, giving recipients flexibility and choice of when to use them. Not only can the vouchers be redeemed against top name performances and unmissable shows, but they can also be used in the Everyman's café, bar and Matcham's restaurant, giving you the chance to make a night of it and enjoy refreshments during your visit. This really is the perfect gift for anyone!

Priority Access Membership

Brimming with benefits, The Everyman Theatre's new Priority Access membership features a host of exclusive perks and is the perfect gift for someone who loves the arts or enjoys new experiences and live entertainment.

Priority Access Membership gives new members the chance to be the first to hear about world-class events at the theatre and secure the best seats in the house, at least 24 hours before anyone else. Not only that, members can enjoy discounts on up to four tickets on most performances, as well as exclusive special offers and additional member discounts on other featured performances. Members will also be treated to a special gift on their birthday and will be kept up to date on the latest Everyman Theatre news with exclusive membership emails.

Funds raised from the Priority Access Membership helps to support the work of The Everyman Theatre's Education and Community department, which engages with over 14,000 individuals from diverse communities across Gloucestershire each year. Projects include promoting wellbeing, inclusivity and positive mental health, such as singing sessions at Wentworth Court Nursing Home for residents with dementia. So not only are you giving someone the amazing gift of entertainment this Christmas, you would also be helping to support thousands of individuals across Gloucestershire too.

Priority Access Membership costs just £45 per year (or free for 16 – 25-year-olds), making this a fantastic (and very reasonably priced) gift. Find out more here:

Tickets for an unmissable show

The Everyman Theatre has a packed programme of outstanding performances running year-round, from top-name comedians to world-renowned ballet, gripping dramas to children's favourites – there really is something for everyone!

Little ones will be delighted by the vibrant, interactive live stage production of the beloved children's hit TV show Hey Duggee. Fans of The Great British Bake Off won't want to miss Prue Leith's frank, revealing and funny one woman show. Following sell out performances in previous years, Dave Gorman is set to return in 2023 and has added an extra performance of his brand-new show due to popular demand.

Take a look through The Everyman's upcoming events and treat someone to tickets this Christmas: <https://www.everymantheatre.org.uk/whats-on/>

Sponsor a seat

If you're looking for an extra special, unique gift or a way to mark a significant occasion, consider sponsoring a seat for someone in The Everyman Theatre's magnificent main auditorium. Your chosen seat will have a specially inscribed brass plaque with your name (or the recipient's name) on it, or a special message, which will remain in place for at least 10 years and your donation will be acknowledged on The Everyman's foyer screens. By sponsoring a seat you'll not only be giving a truly remarkable and unique gift to someone, but you'll also play a leading role in supporting your local theatre and the wider community.

The funds generated from The Everyman Theatre's sponsored seats enable the theatre to offer a range of educational, community and outreach programmes, engaging with thousands of individuals and communities across the county.

The Everyman supports a youth theatre, community choirs, dementia friendly programmes and offers options for audiences with specific needs, such as audio described performances for the visually impaired, captioned and British Sign Language interpreted performances for those with hearing impairments, and relaxed performances for those with learning disabilities. In addition, the theatre offers professional training for students and innovative drama and music workshops to promote wellbeing and positive mental health. The Everyman works with a variety of local charities, bringing the magic and wonder of live theatre to thousands of children, young people and vulnerable adults across Gloucestershire each year.

As a registered charity, The Everyman's box office income alone, especially post-pandemic, isn't enough to support these life-enhancing community and education projects. The funds generated by sponsoring a seat enables the theatre to continue to offer community, education and outreach support, helping to make the arts more accessible to all. To find out
